Forecast for Friday 24 Mar 2023

Weather: Cloudy with showers overnight, some showers may be of hail or sleet and a rumble of thunder is possible. Strong winds will enhance the chill effect. During the day there will be some bright or sunny spells and scattered showers, the odd one heavy and thundery. Showers tending to move through quite quickly in the blustery winds.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 80%, some low cloud shrouding western hill tops at times as showers cluster together.

Low cloud and visibility: Patches or scattered cloud above 500m are likely at times, especially towards western hills in any heavier showers. Cloud should clear relatively quickly after showers with good visibility outwith showers, turning moderate or poor in heavier showers and sleet.
